City Solicitor James H. Torrey, returned yesterday to the city treasurer's office a check for $13,063.48 for grading, paving and sewers. This is the largest amount that has been returned for many years.

The belligerent was thrown out on the street by the bartender and was arrested later, in Railroad alley near the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western depot. He refused to give his name at police headquarters. A crowd of 300 people gathered around Callahan's and it required the greatest effort of Officer Gleason to clear the sidewalk.

THAT LANTERN PARADE

Scranton Wheelmen Made a Good Showing at Wilkes-Barre.

IT WAS A SPLENDID PAGEANT

Names of the Committees That Had It in Charge—Officers of Today's Meet and the Scranton Men Who Are Entered to Contest for Prizes. Remarks of A. B. Dunning About Good Roads.

SPECIAL TO THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE.
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., July 2. THIS city tonight is owned by the wheelmen. There are wheels to the right, wheels to the left and wheels all around. In some cases there are wheels in the lead; but these are few and do not concern this story. It has been eight years since Wilkes-Barre has had the pleasure of entertaining a state meet; and it is making up for lost time by a gorgeous display of hospitality. The handsome new club house of the West End wheelmen was naturally the one center of interest. It was lavishly decorated and yet more lavishly provided with the various necessities of hospitality and cheer. In fact, the whole city was tonight one mass of gaiety and color, while welcome and good cheer abounded in unmeasured measure.

The crack team of the day was the lantern parade in the evening in which more than 500 wheelmen participated. Of these thirty were from Scranton. The long line of lights as it extended along the route of march looked for all the world like a pageantry in fairy land, while the brightly colored Chinese lanterns decorating numerous arches and windows added to the attractiveness. After the parade Bauer's band gave a concert at the club house, during the reception that ensued. His superb playing came in for generous commendation; in fact, next to Wilkes-Barre, Scranton was the major share of the day and evening honors.

In conclusion he said: "The farmer is a peculiar man; he cannot be given or crowded but must be led. Go to him with some high-falloon scheme and he at once becomes suspicious. Show him that by this means he will obtain good roads under the same circumstances as he gets his bridges, and he at once becomes interested."

WARRANT ISSUED FOR MEDALA.

It is a Precaution in Case He Should Be Found Outside the County.

The issue yesterday by Alderman Wright of a warrant for the arrest of Medala, the murderer of Loro, the Old Forge Italian, created the impression that the arrest of the man would soon occur.

Sheriff Fahy stated last night that the issue of the warrant was only a precaution to save time in bringing Medala to Scranton in case he is found outside this county. The sheriff said further that he was as much in the dark as ever to the murderer's hiding place.

Until the Monday night following the crime Medala is known to have been in this county and not far from the vicinity of Old Forge. Sheriff Fahy gave it as his opinion that Medala has safely made his way out of the state, which would not have happened if the authorities had had a detailed description of the fugitive or some noticeable scar or mark by which he could have been identified. The sheriff did not know of the round rear back of Medala's car as mentioned in the description accompanying the reward of the county commissioners.

PUPILS' RECITAL AT Y. M. C. A. HALL.

It was Given by the Pupils of Prof. E. E. Southworth.

The fifth piano-forte recital of the pupils of Prof. E. E. Southworth was attended yesterday afternoon at Y. M. C. A. hall. The recital was highly creditable to the pupil and their instructor. Miss Clara Lung, violinist, and Miss Lydia Saylor, soprano, assisted and the efforts of each were very favorably received.

Miss Long is a virtuoso in her line, and Miss Saylor's pure, sweet voice never failed to better advantage. Her solo, "When the Heart is Young," deserved and received its proper applause. A select gathering of ladies was present.

General Manager Beeton Says There is No Serious Difference Between Traction Company and Men.

A committee from the employes of the Scranton Traction company and Acting General Manager Beeton were in conference in the latter's office until a late hour last night. In the presence of one of the men Mr. Beeton assured a Tribune reporter there was no truth in the story that the men had grievances to be adjusted, and he particularly denied that the men contemplated a strike or other severe measure.

"The only question of wages," he said, "was in the case of new men who work a certain length of time at 12 1/2 cents per hour. They wanted the apprentices or probationary period shortened. The matter was referred to Mr. Illey, of Philadelphia, president of the company, and he has given satisfactory reasons why this period, which might be construed as bearing upon wages, could not be shortened.

"It is true," continued Mr. Beeton, "that some of the men have met me several times lately. These conferences have not in any way had any bearing on serious grievances. Almost daily questions arise among employes as to how certain orders from the management are to be interpreted, or perhaps the questions of speed many arise. Often the men have suggestions for the management, which I assure you are generally of importance.

"It has been upon such questions that the management and the employes have mostly conferred and all regret the misconstructions placed upon the meetings.

Mr. Beeton stated further that the meeting last night, like those preceding, did not include a discussion of wages or grievances. Certainly the countenances and demeanor of the men, as they filed out of the general manager's office smiling and chatting, did not bespeak any serious turn of affairs.

CONVENTION OF CALEDONIANS.

Delegates Who Have Already Arrived in the City.

The advance guard of bonny Scotsmen, who today and tomorrow will meet in convention, parade and vie with each other in athletic contests, arrived in the city last night. During this morning others will arrive and swell the number to upwards of 100.

Today the annual convention of Caledonian clubs of North America will be held in Caledonian hall on Wyoming avenue, and tomorrow at Laurel Hill park will witness the annual games of the Scranton Caledonian club. With such a large number of Scots in the city and with the irrepressibility of his enthusiastic supporters, the Caledonian sports will undoubtedly be productive of much excitement as well as feats of much merit.

A grand parade will be given tomorrow morning, and it is expected that some of the finest costumes in this country and Canada will be in line.

The line of march will be as follows: Form at hall on Wyoming avenue at 9:30 a. m. and march to Spruce, to Adams, to Lackawanna, to Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, West Side crossing, counter-march on Lackawanna to Franklin, to Spruce, to Penn, to Mulberry, to Washington, to Lackawanna, taking special cars to Laurel Hill park.

Among the early arrivals are J. A. and Joseph J. Diver, A. P. Childs, George Goodfellow, James Irvine and William Leitch, of Philadelphia; John Ross, New York; William Gardner, Chicago; Peter Hinner, James Lawrence and A. R. Mac Donald, Albany; J. Mathison, Montreal.

MR. DONY HAS RETIRED

Practice of Prosecuting Minor Cases Will Be Abandoned.

PASTORS' UNION PLANS CHANGED

Executive Committee to Be Enlarged and Will Include Only Business Men. Mr. Dony Takes Exception to His Critics—Line of Work to Be Followed in Future—Mr. Sturges' Position in the Matter.

At a meeting of the Pastor's union yesterday Rev. F. A. Dony resigned from the executive committee and will no more figure as the chief prosecutor against violators of the Sabbath observance laws. In fact Mr. Dony's resignation was the forerunner of an almost complete change in the personnel of the committee which in the future will forward the Sunday closing movement on an entirely different basis than that followed during the past two months.

For several weeks E. B. Sturges, of the committee, and several members of the union have known their disapproval of the course pursued by Mr. Dony. His spirit and meaning have not been questioned, but fault has been found because of his movements against druggists, cigar dealers, bakers, etc., when other and grosser violations of the law also existed.

His wisdom questioned.

At yesterday's meeting Mr. Sturges announced that while not questioning Mr. Dony's Christian spirit to do good, he did question his wisdom in prosecuting the many cases of the past two months. Mr. Sturges said the matter must either be fought along other lines or he would have to retire from any executive position in the matter.

Following the request of Colonel H. M. Boies, of the executive committee, that the committee be increased to twenty-five members, Rev. N. F. Stahl and George G. Malby were appointed by Rev. Warren G. Partridge president of the union, as a committee, to select and submit seventeen additional names provided all are willing to serve.

Mr. Dony concluded his remarks on the present status of the movement by taking exception to the manner in which he had been criticized. He thought it should have been shown more clearly in what particular way he had shown poor judgment. He reminded the meeting that he and his work had been endorsed by the recent Wyoming Methodist conference, by the Association of Methodist ministers of Scranton, and he was happy to say, had received the approval and support of the Pastor's union.

MR. DONY'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

The resignation of Mr. Dony, which had been submitted two meetings previous, was accepted. This was followed by the adoption of a set of resolutions conveying the approval of submitting the work to a committee of business men and acknowledging indebtedness to Mr. Dony.

The committee on the Moody meetings during the month of September consists of Rev. Dr. L. C. Floyd, Rev. W. G. Partridge, Rev. N. F. Stahl, J. H. Lansing, C. E. Whittemore, Louis Davies and Charles Clark. It will be necessary to raise $1,500 at once and there will be other expenses. The committee was directed to proceed with the work and the pastors will at once lay the matter before the churches to secure financial aid.

Mr. Dony, whose resignation from the executive committee in no wise affects his membership in the union was seen at his residence by a TRIBUNE reporter last evening. In addition to substantiating what is recorded above he said that there were persons connected with the movement who had made a mistake in finding fault with what had been done.

"They think they know certain conditions of the work," he said, "but on the contrary their ignorance is remarkable on this subject. Everything has been well under way until last Sunday, when, I must admit, the work was somewhat demoralized.

APPROVES THE IDEA.

"I approve of the idea of having the executive committee composed entirely of business men and was one of the first to advocate it. My resignation was neither asked or sought; it was merely to leave the matter entirely to laymen who can best raise funds to continue the work."

E. B. Sturges was interviewed by the reporter at his home in North Washington avenue. He said he did not wish to be placed in a position of thwarting a work which was a useful necessity in Scranton.

"I have announced," said Mr. Sturges, "in meetings of the Union that I could not support or be identified even by name with such a movement. I guided with method I believed to be wrong. Mr. Dony is a Christian gentleman of undoubted fidelity and well-meaning, but a gross mistake is made in prosecuting minor cases when grosser and more harmful evils exist.

"It has been said, by Mr. Dony, I believe, that a liquor dealer cannot be convicted. He can be convicted, and many will agree with me who recall the great Sunday reform brought about in this city years ago, at a time when a prize fight on Lackawanna avenue was not an infrequent occurrence. It every member of the enlarged executive committee, whether there be ten or twenty-five members, has his conscience in the work and goes in to win and with the determination never to give up, success will follow."
